

Janani Sai - creator and divine sweetness

„Janani Sai Devi Daya Mayi “ is a very loving Bhajan for our Divine Mother. Swami Kaleshwar enjoyed it very veery much and it was always wonderful to see how deep he immersed with this song when he leaned back and closed his eyes. He also asked to exchange in the last line the word „Prema“ with „Devya“. The way he did it made clear that Devya not „simply“ means divine power or deity, but rather could be experienced as an all-pervasive infinite sweetness! This sweetness it is which we all long for, that it is always with us and nourishes us, wherever we go . We call that in this bhajan „Janani“, Mother of all of us, creator of all beings, full of love and compassion (Daya Karo). She is always there for us.

Also Shirdi Sai Baba is with us. As a wonderful force which can be as tenderly as real mother.

The book „Baba is still alive“ by Jaya Wahi is a true source of inspiration full of wondrous stories, that we do never want anything else than to give ourselves completely to this wonderful divine sweetness and power! I could imagine that in the celestial spheres a sigh of relief would make the rounds, if more of us „important people“ would move our great „I“ finally aside, become silent and trust listening inside, relax, hand over our loads and experience refreshed new impulses.

„Baba is still alive“ and to this Bhajan may help to bring back nourishing sweetness in our lives. ☺
